

Waste Management

Learn how waste legislation affects your organisation, how to keep up with changing requirements, and how to identify the action needed to maintain compliance, with our IEMA approved Waste Management training course.

This 1-day course includes interactive workshops covering key topics such as the benefits of compliant waste management and the requirements of key UK waste legislation.

Students will leave the course with a better understanding of waste management requirements, enabling them to make a positive contribution to their organisation's environmental performance and management system. Application of these new skills will also assure customers and other stakeholders of your commitment to waste management.

The amount of information and resources provided is more than I have been issued in other courses. This will support me in my current role and assist me in keeping up to date and improving our management systems.

Humber Bridge Board

The tutor's own personal style in delivering the course coupled with his pragmatic approach worked well for our group. As such I would have no hesitation in using Bywater again.

Navigator Terminals UK

The course was well structured and with a practical focus. This made the course easy to follow and engage with.

British Antarctic Survey

The tutor was brilliant, easy going, great to get on with, explained things in a very understanding way, and put me at ease and made me feel part of the group.
